Dear Harold,

I was very glad to have been able to meet you & your wife in person. As for the interview, I think we covered as much as could be expected from the alloted time. It was a good two-hour "slice" from your wealth of knowledge on the Kennedy assassination & investigations.

I'm sorry that lunch didn't work out for us — too little time when you're paying a film crew $1,200 a day. Maybe next time?

One question: are the curtain rods in the Blackstar photo the same ones that Oswald claimed to be carrying? If they are, how do we know?

Happy holidays,

Marty Callaghan
